

Chariton Courier.

VANDIVER & COLLINS, Pubs.

KEYTESVILLE, MISSOURI.

Go to Holcomb's for lumber.
Go to Holcomb's for chain pumps.
Go to Holcomb's for wheel-barrows.
Miss Octavia Mann has returned from St. Louis.
The best stock of paints to be found is at Holcomb's.
Holcomb has never been undersold on lumber or hardware.
A first-class line of cigars and tobacco at W. G. Agee & Co's.
A large stock of hay forks at low prices at Geo. M. Dewey & Co's.
Glass fruit jars—quarts and half gallons—at Geo. M. Dewey & Co's.
Call on Geo. M. Dewey & Co. for your sealing wax. They keep the best.
Twenty-five pounds best open-kettle New Orleans sugar for $1 at T. P. Wood's.
By comparison you will see that Holcomb's is the place to buy lumber and hardware.
John Gladbach, trustee of Salt Creek township, was at the capital on business Friday.
You will always regret it if you buy lumber without getting Holcomb's prices and grades.
You should not be bothered with fine while Holcomb is selling screen doors and windows so cheap.
Housekeepers should not fail to see that handsome line of window shades at J. C. Ruder's.
Whether you want a board or a load of lumber save your money by getting them at Holcomb's.
Call on Geo. M. Dewey & Co., and see their line of cooking stoves which are the best on the market.
Miss Lou Crockett, an attractive young lady of near Triplett, is the guest of Mrs. B. H. Smith this week.
Mrs. S. W. Dodge and sister, Miss Gabe Wilson, are visiting relatives and friends in Marquette this week.
Holcomb is still in the lead of the lumber trade—keeping better grades and making better figures than anyone.
Don't forget Holcomb's hardware and lumber establishment, if you do, you certainly will pay more for your goods.
Geo. M. Dewey & Co. make their own tin fruit cans, and persons purchasing from them can be sure of getting the best.
The lowest possible rates, to give living profits are made on lumber at Holcomb's. Call and see and you will do well.
Everybody bear in mind that for good grades, low prices and fair dealing, Holcomb's is the place to trade.
For the sale and purchase of real estate and the division of estates among heirs, etc., call on E. C. Miller, Keytesville, Mo.
J. R. Lytle and L. R. Guy, two tillers of the soil in Cunningham township, were pleasant callers at the Courier office Tuesday.
Jas. K. Smith and little daughter, Bessie, of summer, were at the capital Monday. Mr. Smith was here on business before the county court.
"Uncle Tom" Elliott and daughter, Miss Lila, are visiting the family of Mr. Elliott's brother, R. H. Elliott, at Sweet Springs, Boone county.
Fruit jars by the thousands at Agee & Co's, and at the very lowest possible prices. Call on them when you want the best for the least money.
J. G. Galloway, the last full quill pen of the Press-Spectator, and J. M. Clark, of Salisbury, dropped in to see the Courier folks while at the Capital Monday.
Quite a number of farmers commenced threshing wheat Monday. The yield over the county, it is thought, will average about seventeen or eighteen bushels to the acre.
All lovers of that refreshing drink, ice tea, should call at Agee & Co's, and get a pound of that fine Japan tea in a nice decorated Potiphar jar, all for only 90 cents. Try it.
"Uncle Daniel" Culbertson, one of the oldest settlers of Chariton county, died at his home, near Bell school-house, yesterday morning at 6 o'clock, in the 82nd year of his age.
Mrs. L. E. Cook and Ed Ewing spent Sunday in Carrollton. Mrs. Cook was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Snavely, while Ed Ewing spent the day with Mr. W. A. Hurt and Miss Rosa Ewing.
Capt. A. Johns, one of the most prosperous business men of Clarksville, Pike county, dropped dead in the midst of his family at his residence, in that city, on Monday evening of last week.
T. T. Elliott & Son, real estate, loan and insurance agents, have on hand a large lot of improved and unimproved lands, which they will sell at $5 and upwards an acre. Time given if required.
Our old friend and neighbor, J. M. Hamilton, of near Salisbury, made the Courier a highly appreciated call Tuesday. Mr. Hamilton is one of Chariton county's most widely known and best citizens.
C. B. Crawley is again among his law books after a vacation of three or four weeks spent in "resting up." He was on his way to the summer, while Prof. Krigbaum, Keytesville's meteorologist, predicts that there will be rain every week for the next two months. But then great men will differ.
J. R. Simpson, an inmate of the ex-Confederate home at Higginville, died at that institution on Wednesday of last week. He was buried by the Masonic fraternity, of which he had been an honored member for many years. This is the first death occurring at this benevolent institution.

Screen work at Holcomb's.

The largest stock of lumber in the county at Holcomb's.
Prof. R. T. Bond, of Central college, Fayette, preached two strong temperance discourses at the Methodist church last Sunday morning and evening.
Holcomb's long experience in lumber has given him a knowledge of the demand of the builders. Call and get figures and lumber as well as hard ware and paint.
Frank Kuevans has sold his 80-acre farm in Chariton township to Chris Gebhardt for $3,000, and has bought the old Tooley farm in Howard county, near Forest Green, containing 125 acres, for $4,000.
A swarm of busy bees have their hive in the northeast corner of the court-house roof at Mexico. They have been located there for nearly a year. The bees and the sparrows and the county officials dwell together congenially and harmoniously.
A special term of the Randolph county circuit court was convened in Moberly last Monday, Judge Rockaway presiding. A grand jury was empaneled for the purpose of cleaning out the county jail, for which purpose the special term was called.
Mrs. Harriet Morehouse, wife of Judge Morehouse, of Nodaway county, and the mother of ex-Governor A. P. Morehouse, was thrown from a buggy last Sunday morning, while on her way to church, and sustained injuries from which she died in a few hours.
See our line of nice glass water sets, both in plain and fancy designs, ranging in price from 75 cents to $2.25. We have as fine an assortment of all kinds of glass and china ware as was ever shown in this county. Call and see our stock. Agee & Co.
Thomas Ewing, of Carroll county, one day last week caught, with a dip-net, three channel cat-fish out of the Missouri river, whose united weights aggregated 378 pounds. The only thing remarkable about this catch is that it is a fish story in a bran new suit.
Rosenstien is selling out his entire stock at greatly reduced prices. Now is the time to secure bargains in all kinds of dry goods.
A destructive fire occurred at LaPlata, Macon county, last Monday morning. The handsome row of business houses, known as the Edwards block, was entirely destroyed, leaving a loss on the owners of $7,000, which was only partially covered by insurance.
Deputy Sheriff Harrison came down from Brunswick Saturday afternoon with a fellow by the name of James Redman for running a gambling game known as the "ball-and-shell" game at Brunswick last Saturday. Redman's trial is in progress at Brunswick as we go to press.
Henry Mack and Lewis Vaughn, two enterprising farmers in Benton county, had a quarrel over the rearing of a house last Monday evening, which resulted in Vaughn, holding a double-barrel shot-gun and emptying the contents into Mack's body, inflicting a mortal wound.
A terrific rail and hail storm passed over the county round about Chillicothe, Livingston county, one day last week. At Utica, five miles west, chunks of hail as large as a man's fist fell in torrents, beating vegetation into the earth and entirely destroying a number of fine orchards.
Cooper county has a dry land sailor in the person of Benjamin Hutchinson, who has graduated with distinction at the United States Naval academy at Annapolis, Maryland. His father is cashier of the Commercial bank at Booneville, and has been for a number of years.
Ural Fox, whose preliminary trial was held Tuesday before Squire Elliott, of Chariton township, was committed to jail to await the action of the grand jury in default of the required bail. Fox is the negro who burglarized W. J. Weatherly's house, near Shannondale some two weeks ago.
Strayed, from my place on July 4, 1891, a boy named, in my opinion, had on a bell when he left, white spot in forehead branded with "A" bottom up on both shoulders. Any information in regard to her will be liberally rewarded by B. F. Elliott, Naamah, Mo.
"Uncle John" Myers died at his home near the Hayden school-house, Muscle Fork township, Monday morning of brain fever, in the 75th year of his age. His remains were laid to rest the following day at the Locke graveyard by the Clark's Branch sub-union of the F. & L. U., of which he was a highly esteemed member.
E. S. Stodder, of Monroe county, sowed four acres of alfalfa last spring, as an experiment, and it has proven to be an entire success in this climate. In California it grows rank and coarse, but here in Missouri Mr. Stodder's experiment shows that it not only makes fine but makes a superior article of feed.
A young man by the name of Miltrecker, of St. Charles county, fell from a cherry tree on Saturday last week and received injuries from which he died the next morning. The singularity of this accident was that just one year before Miltrecker's uncle fell from the same tree receiving injuries from which he died a few days afterward.
The only fatal fall of July 1st heard from occurred at Manchester, in St. Louis county, in which George Meyer and George Edlin, a couple of respectable young men of the neighborhood, were the participants. Edlin received several ugly wounds during the fight, dying a few hours afterward.
Wood Steunsons, a highly esteemed farmer living near Rochester, Boone county, while driving his horses from the pasture on Saturday morning of last week, was kicked in the breast and stomach by one of them, from the effects of which he died the next morning. The deceased had been a reputable citizen of that county for a number of years.
A colored woman by the name of Ann Ford, wife of Wm. Ford, of near Miami, was killed on the 4th of July. She had been to Miami and had started home, when the vehicle she was in ran into a ditch in some way, and she was thrown out. Her back was broken in the fall, from the effects of which she died, a few hours afterward.
Thomas Williams, the Pettis county murderer who was to be hanged some time last March, but who succeeded in getting a stay of execution until the supreme court could pass on his appeal, was sentenced one day last week, the court refusing to disturb the judgment of the lower court. The time fixed for his execution is August 21st.
A couple of colored girls in Kansas City, one eleven and the other twelve years of age, were standing on the bank of the Missouri river looking at the turbulent waters the other day, when the bank gave way, precipitating them into the river. They were caught under the falling bank and drowned. Their bodies were recovered the next day.
Mrs. June Davis died in Kansas city last Monday, the utmost equator. She had saved up during her life-time $1,500, which she had on deposit in one of the banks of that city. The old lady had been too ill to work for some time, but she refused to draw on her bank account to even supply the necessities of life, and actually starved to death.

Henry Henson, a St. Louis wife murderer, who was to have been hung on Thursday of last week, was respite by Governor Francis until Friday, the 13th day of August. Christian Young, of Lafayette county, sentenced to hang on the same day, was also respite until the same time in August. The governor refused to commute their sentences.
W. S. Fugh, a promising young man of Howard county, has been elected to a professorship in the Conference college at Leasburg, Florida. He will occupy the chair of natural history, a position he is said to be eminently qualified to fill. Missouri is full of young men of culture and promise, who will eventually drop into the right place in due time.
Our handsome and genial young friend, C. C. Zillman, of near Indian Grove, who was appointed as a naval cadet to Annapolis three years ago, was an agreeable caller at the Courier office Saturday. "Christian" is now off duty on a sick leave, having been in poor health all last winter. He will remain with his parents near Indian Grove until September.
The drug store of T. B. Morris, of Arrow Rock, Saline county, was burned to the ground last Sunday night. The fire originated by Mr. Morris lighting a match in a back room, when some chemicals ignited. The house was wrapped in flames in a few minutes, and Morris would have perished if assistance had not been at hand. The building and contents were a total loss.
L. B. Decker, a brewman on the Chicago and Alton railway, made a mile-stap and fell between the cars while the train was moving at the rate of 25 miles an hour on Friday evening of last week, between Glasgow and Steinmetz. Of course the corner of Howard county held an inquest over the fragments, which resulted in a verdict in harmony with the above facts.
It is claimed by the Carrollton papers that there were 175,000 and 200,000 acres in wheat in that county this year, and that the harvest will amount to 4,000,000 bushels. This appears more like making an estimate of the agricultural resources of an empire than a small district of country in Missouri, but we always do things on a grand scale here in Missouri.
Louis Bulling, the St. Joseph wife murderer, was lodged in the Holt county jail again Saturday night last. Bulling escaped from jail on the 19th of last April. He attempted to commit suicide after being placed behind the bars last Saturday night by taking morphine, but was unsuccessful. A guard will be kept in the cell with him until he is taken out for execution. He was captured at Chicago.
A fatal accident occurred near Clinton, Henry county, on Friday evening of last week. A horse, owned by a resident of that county, started to take a hunt, but before leaving the premises set his gun down and returned to the house for something he had forgotten. During his absence his little 5-year-old boy got hold of the gun and discharged it, the load taking effect in the breast of John Miller, a lad about 17 years old, killing him instantly.
A. F. Tharp, a farmer of Vernon county, has a crop of about 20 acres of sugar-cane growing on his farm this year, which he intends to make into sorghum molasses. In order to have a market ready for his sugar-cane matter he wrote to the warden of the penitentiary to find out how much he could sell to that institution. Wednesday of last week he received an answer to his letter informing him that the board in the pen were too tight-headed to use that kind of syrup.
Another eminent Missourian is exalted in the count of his brethren. The priestly mantle falls this time on a distinguished native of Howard county. Elibert Talbot was elected bishop of Georgia last week, to succeed the late Bishop Blackwell, of that section. The new bishop was born and raised in Fayette, and received orders in the Episcopal church in 1873, and stationed in Macon county, where he established St. James' military academy. He was on missionary duty, however, in the West, when this promotion came.
W. T. Botts, postmaster at Higbee, in Randolph county, went home one night last week and found what he supposed to be a basket of clothes at his front door. He took the basket in the house and went to bed without disturbing the other members of the family. During the night a young man sleeping in the room in which the basket had been placed was aroused by the crying of a child, and, upon investigation, a lady was found snuggled away in the basket. Mr. Botts had not found the owners of the child, at last accounts.
MANHATTAN—At the residence of the officiating minister, Rev. Nathan Parks, on Thursday, July 24, Mr. James Gribble and Miss Irene Chapman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Chapman, of near the Walker school-house.
At Salisbury, Wednesday, July 1st, Mr. Frank Perry and Miss Maud Chambers, Rev. M. J. Perry tying the nuptial knot.
At Forest Green, Sunday, July 5th, by Elder J. W. Caldwell, Robert Montgomery and Mrs. Mary Walker.
At the residence of the bridegroom's brother, James Craig, in Keytesville, Sunday, July 5th, Mr. George T. Craig and Miss Phoebe Ann Coy, "Squire" H. A. Wheeler wedding the matrimonial vows. Mr. Craig and his bride reached the afternoon passenger train for Harris, Mo., where he is engaged in farming near that place.
The Courier extends congratulations and pronounces its blessings upon all these newly launched matrimonial boats.
Last Saturday afternoon the 4 o'clock west-bound passenger train on the Wabash ran over a negro boy at Brunswick by the name of Chas. Harris aged 12 years. Harris was lying on the track, it is said, in an intoxicated condition. He was run over by a passenger train, and he was killed. The train was stopped, and when the train approached he made no effort to get out of the way. His body was cut in two and his left arm and right leg were cut off. Dr. Dewey, county coroner, was notified by telegram and went to Brunswick Sunday morning to investigate the cause which led to the boy's death. A jury was empaneled by Deputy Sheriff Dempsey, which, after hearing the evidence in the case, returned a verdict that "deceased came to his death through criminal negligence of the officers of the railroad." A suit for damages against the company by Harris' parents, if he has any, will likely be the sequel.
Keytesville's Fourth of July celebration was well attended. The committee of arrangements, we regret to say, were very derelict in their duties, as no speakers were obtained for the occasion and no ice water was on the grounds until three o'clock in the afternoon. The committee also failed to make any arrangement on the part of this committee and each one seemed to think that the "other fellow" would make all necessary arrangements. The truth is the committee never held a meeting. Holcomb only made such announcements as it felt warranted in doing from what was told by the instigators of the picnic, and we wash our hands of any deficiencies that existed. The horse racing was interesting. The free-for-all 3-4 mile dash was won by E. W. Price's Lizzie V.; the pony race was captured by Thos. Tetlow's Peanut, and the pole horse race by Cracken, whose owner's name we failed to get. The fireworks at night were a decided success and was the most magnificent display ever exhibited in Keytesville. Music throughout the day and evening was dispensed by the Chariton Township Silver Cornet band.

James Peace, a highly respected farmer of Mercer county, left the train at Jamesport, Daviess county, on the Rock Island railroad on Friday evening of last week, and started to walk down the track to the residence of a friend whom he was going to visit, when he was run over by a freight train and instantly killed.
Remember that Rosenstien is making big reductions in all grades of Clothing, Furnishing Goods and all other goods carried by him. See his goods and get his prices before buying.
W. R. Ramey, of Vernon county, whose 4-year-old boy was kidnapped by his hired hand a couple of weeks ago, has recovered his child, and also his wagon and team, which was also taken at the same time. The kidnapper was followed into Southeast Kansas, and captured at the home of his mother. He represented to his captors that he intended to return the child and team in the fall. The young man will not be presented by Mr. Ramey.
Upon complaint of Hugo Bartz some ten or a dozen young men and boys were arrested Tuesday and arraigned in Mayor Scott's court on a charge of indecently exposing their person. They had gone in bathing just below the mill, within the corporate limits of the city and in sight of Mr. Bartz' house. All of the offenders were found guilty and were fined minimum amounts. The boys will not take a bath again this summer, perhaps, but if they do their abolutions will not be indulged in within several hundred yards of the mill.
City Marshal Higginbotham, of Brunswick, came down Friday with "Bat" Campbell, who, when arrested, had a concealed weapon on his person. At the time of his arrest Campbell was in company with a female of questionable character, who was seized before Police Judge Miller and fined $3 for keeping company with a "soiled dove." On the charge of carrying concealed weapons it seems that Campbell was ordered sent to jail without the formality of a commitment, and when he arrived Sheriff Anderson refused to receive him until the proper commitment was issued. The prisoner was taken before Squire Ewing, pleaded guilty to the concealed weapon charge, and was fined $50 and costs. In default of payment he was committed to jail, where he now languishes.
A. Williamson, Keytesville's new doctor, arrived on Wednesday afternoon of last week, and now offers his professional services to suffering humanity in Keytesville and vicinity. The doctor, when he was here prospecting for a location, was met by a party of his friends, who were with him and his wife, who were only married at Frankfort, Mo., on June 30th, and that they at once took their departure for Keytesville, their future home. Newspaper men are never heartless and had the P-D. known of the role that the doctor and his winsome bride were playing in Keytesville the society reporter of that paper would certainly never have given them away.
The question of licensing saloons has been hotly discussed before the county court this week, both by the saloon men and anti-saloon men, represented by their attorneys. The ruling of the court was that dram-shop licenses would be granted upon a majority petition of bona fide tax-paying citizens, or upon a two-thirds petition of all the tax-payers of the town in which the saloon was to be located. Monday and Tuesday were taken up in acting upon the petitions of Salisbury and Brunswick saloon-keepers. Salisbury's dispensens of the place that cheers had more than a two-thirds petition of bona fide tax-paying citizens of that city and the four saloons in that place were all granted licenses. The Brunswick saloonists had a majority of fifteen of the bona fide tax-paying citizens of Brunswick and the six saloon-keepers at Brunswick were also granted license. No fight was made against saloon license at either Triplett or Sumner, and the petitions from those two towns being found sufficient license was granted for a saloon at each of these places. There were two petitions from Sumner but for some reason one of them was withdrawn before it was passed upon. The petitions of the two saloon firms at Keytesville failed to contain a clear majority of six of the bona fide tax-paying citizens and both saloons were granted license. No license was asked for from Dalton. The attorneys, representing the saloon men upon whom a fight for license was made, were: C. W. Bell, J. B. Ellington and W. H. Binkley, for the saloon men; and T. S. Dines, C. B. Crawley and R. C. Ford for Brunswick and Keytesville dramshop-keepers. The anti-saloon element of Brunswick, Salisbury and Keytesville were represented by Hon. C. Hammond and P. S. Rader. These lawyers, of course, were all "in it" for a monetary consideration.
Announcement.
In advance of the annual catalogue of Salisbury academy, shortly to be issued, we take pleasure in announcing that the services of Joseph H. Foy, DD. LL. D., has been secured as principal of the school.
We quote in this connection the following words of endorsement given by such eminent educators as Prof. J. S. Blackwell, late acting president of the Missouri university, and Prof. W. B. Smith, dean of the mathematical department of the same institution. Prof. Blackwell says: "The Rev. J. H. Foy, DD. LL. D. is widely and most favorably known as a thinker, a student, a scholar, a man of penetration and power. He is a gentleman of the highest standing. He is a teacher of experience and strength."
Prof. Smith writes: "I weigh my words carefully in pronouncing him to be in general the peer of any man in the state. He is a man of restful energy, and in every way equal to the responsibilities of any position that is likely to seek him. It is almost superfluous to add that I should regard any institution of learning as fortunate in which his ideas and influence were potent or directive."
Like words of commendation came to us from President Oldham, of Christian college, R. B. Price, president of the Boone County National bank, and other leading citizens of this and other states.
Dr. Foy will have the assistance of an efficient corps of teachers in all departments of the school, and we confidently expect a work to be done in Salisbury academy that will tell favorably upon its future and insure increased patronage and prosperity to the school.
By direction of the board.
W. S. STOCKWELL, President.
G. B. OLDHAM, Secretary.

County Institute.
The institute of this county will be held at Salisbury, beginning July 27th, and continue four weeks.
It is to be hoped that each and every teacher in the county will make a strong effort to attend.
This institute will, in some measure, at least, show who are the teachers and who are the "hangersons," who are alive and aggressive, and who are non-professional and dead. It is not enough that we hold a certificate or diploma; we need to be brought in contact, exchange ideas, draw inspiration and prepare ourselves for more effective work.
Each teacher should avail himself or herself of every opportunity for improvement. He owes it to himself, to his profession and above all to the children entrusted to his direction and care. As the teacher, so is the school. If he be progressive and wide-awake, the school will imitate his spirit and stand ready to respond to every onward impulse.
No teacher can afford to be careless and indifferent to self-improvement.
Teachers, let us make our arrangements to attend the institute; let us show to our directors and patrons and to the people of Chariton county that we are in earnest, not afraid to meet and measure schools; let us use every means to make this the best institute ever held in the county. We can do it if we will take hold and do our duty.
J. P. COLEMAN, County School Commissioner.
